SOFTWARE ENGINEERING APPLICATIONS

Catwalk | Front-End Software Engineer
- Architected the React front-end service of two photo carousels and pop-up modal backed with RESTful API backend.
- Created seamless user experience through dynamic client-side routing using React Router that empowered users to browse through all retail items served by product API server.

System Design Capstone | Back-End Software Engineer
- Scaled and designed multi-layer backend system that can handle 500 rps to 4,000 rps using load balancing through NGINX.
- Optimized query design in SQL via joins and subqueries to reduce database response time from 30ms to 4ms.

StichSaver Web Application | Front-End Software Engineer
- Built the user page interface which displayed up to 5 vertical carousels representing created, purchased, favorited, in progress and completed patterns.
- Created optimized experience for new and existing users integrating backend Authentication service and ContextAPI to conditionally render logged in and non-logged in landing pages.
- Increased API performance by debouncing client interactions on frequently used elements.
- Dynamically rendered pop-up modal at desired location based on click event clientX and clientY and factoring in scrolling offset.
